

UNCERTAIN TIMES REQUIRE A STEADY HAND

Our country faces enormous challenges – a failed war, a crippling deficit, and an economy in crisis. We live in uncertain times, and we need a president with sound judgment and steady leadership.

That's why millions of Republicans all across our country are rejecting the divisive politics of the past.

“We are voting
for Barack, Obama.”

Because we are serious about getting our government's long-term finances in order, putting our economy back on track, ending the war in Iraq responsibly, and keeping America safe.

Because Barack Obama is bringing all of us together to reject the Karl Rove school of wedge politics and fundamentally change the way Washington works.

Because even though we're proud to be Republicans, we are Americans first.

Now is the time for Americans to stand together. Our country faces enormous challenges, and we simply cannot afford more of the same.
